Dave,

I am awaiting a reply from our Professional Affairs group, however I would recommend inclusion of language referencing Walmart Standard Operating Procedure which when executed eliminates the possibility of a new RX reaching a patient without interaction from the Pharmacist. All new RX's are placed in clear bags and upon checkout must be final bagged by the Pharmacist upon counsel with the patient. Although there may be a time delay between when the patient checks out and the Pharmacist can present the prescription (depending upon workload, etc.), this practice ensures the patient the opportunity to receive counsel. If I receive any other feedback I will let you know.

Aaron, OK! Again, we understand that Wal Mart is not and cannot provide legal advice for us, but you have until about 330 our time (430 yours) to suggest any tweak that may help to Beth's letter. Otherwise it gets mailed as is. Thanks, Dave
